

Believer.com is a Biblical Research and Teaching Ministry as well as a Fellowship Center for believers everywhere to share what The Holy Spirit has taught them. Our goal is to build an online community and Scripture based library that reveals God's Truth, not the traditions and commandments of men.

We are a ever growing group of Christian Believers from around the world that hold The Bible to be The Truth the only Word of God and 'Thus saith the Lord'.

We believe the Scriptures to be the one and only authority for the Christian in matters of faith and practice and that by studying The Bible the Christian may grow up in Him, Who is the only True God.

We believe that the Christian today finds true knowledge and understanding in the acknowledgment of Him and that by leaning not to our own understanding but in all our ways seeking His guidance from the Holy Scriptures, He will direct us in the way we should go as to Right Believing in Christ Jesus our Lord.

If you are wondering what church, denomination or doctrine the Believer.com website is affiliated, the answer is The Faith of Jesus Christ. We have only to look at Corinthians to see what was occurring even in the first century Church:

I Corinthians 1:10-15

Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and [that] there be no divisions among you; but [that] ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment.

For it hath been declared unto me of you, my brethren, by them [which are of the house] of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.

Now this I say, that every one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of Apollos; and I of Cephas; and I of Christ.

Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?

We are always open to greater learning and try to "Search the Scriptures" when presented with a doctrine that may dispute what we have posted, and will correct our post given the biblical evidence of any wrong teaching.

We have many writers but we choose to leave the teachings anonymous so that people will consider the teaching in light of the Scriptures instead of the authors. We believe that any believer who understands the principles of right division and biblical research can arrive at the True meaning of Scripture with the guidance of the Holy Spirit and so we choose HIM to be the ultimate WHO in what is taught from our site.

Based on many evidences as to why we choose an anonymous format we offer one; Consider Titus which ends with, "Grace be with you all. Amen" (Titus 3:15) and that with these identical words the epistle to the Hebrews also closes. Shall we not therefore be compelled to accept this "sign-manual" of the Apostle, and maintain that Paul was the writer of the epistle to the Hebrews? This is the one anonymous epistle of the twenty-one that are found in the N.T. Why should the writer of any epistle suppress his identity?

When we remember the deep prejudice of the Jew, and of the Jewish Christians, and Paul's sensitiveness concerning them, and that he should give none offence, neither to Jew, Gentile nor church of God, and that he was not sent as an Apostle to them, we see the adequate reason to account for the withholding of the writer's name. In Christianity today there are many prejudice judgements being levied against sound Scriptural doctrine because of who might have authored the work but we believe God has commanded us to;

2 Timothy 2:15 Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

Believer.com is only interested in the revealed Word and Will of God made known to all through The Scriptures which is why any teaching can be challenged with Scriptural proof from God's Word posted to this site by way of our Research Department.
